

Healthy Living

THE PROGRAM

Healthy Living represents Nine Radio's first dedicated health program every Sunday night.

Hosted by Dr Ross Walker, the program showcases a different perspective on current health issues and news while also debunking common medical myths.

The content will enable healthy living for health conscious 40+ listeners and will provide a contextually relevant environment for medical and health advertisers.

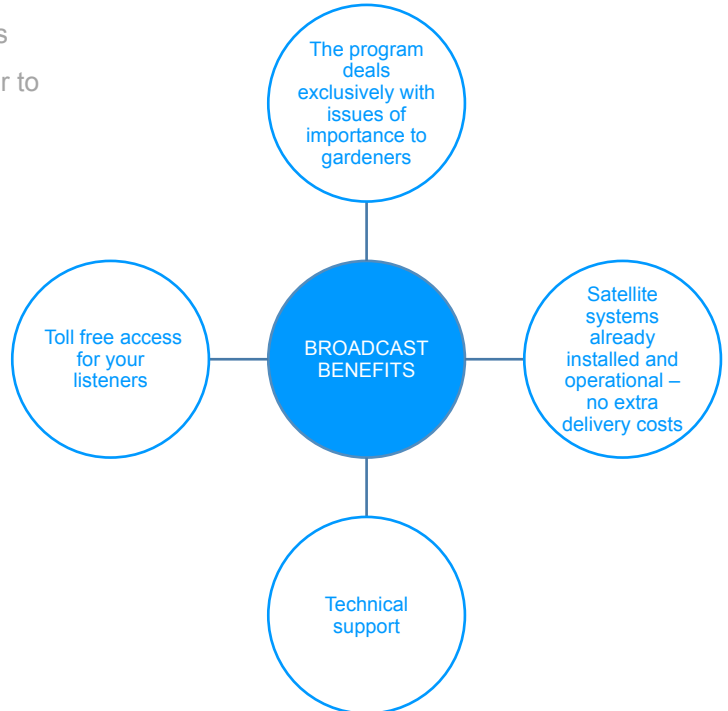

The program's host Dr Ross Walker is one of Australia's leading preventative health experts and is an eminent practising cardiologist. Along with his medical work, Dr Ross is a prominent contributor to Nine Radio's health and wellness content.
